- We understand the importance of being prepared for and taking active parts in each discussion. Therefore, we have promised each other that we will prepare thoroughly for each discussion. That is, we will read the predetermined portion of our book, write about that portion in our journals, and prepare for our special role.
- A component of literature circles includes a final assignment (an extension project/activity), which allows you to show and express your experience with the book or literature you have read. You are virtually free to do what you wish with this assignment, as long as you incorporate knowledge from the book into your project to show that you have read it.

I agree to be an active member of our Literature Circle. I will read and complete my role sheets, as well as my extension project.
